About AEDC

The Asian Economic Development Conference (AEDC) is an annual research conference organized by the Asian Development Bank (ADB), Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI), and an esteemed university cohost from Asia. The third AEDC will be co-hosted by the ADB, ADBI, and Seoul National University (SNU) on 13–14 July 2024 in SNU campus.

The objective of the AEDC is to promote high-quality, frontline research on major economic development issues relevant to developing Asia and the Pacific and to foster knowledge sharing among social scientists, development practitioners, and policymakers. The conference features presentations of unpublished empirical analyses, survey articles, economic modelling, and policy-oriented research on a range of topics on development economics, such as the following:

- Agriculture and Rural Development: food security, productivity, and agricultural markets
- Health and Education: access to health care and education, aging, and demographic challenges
- Labor: skills, future of work, job security, job quality, and labor productivity
- Gender: gaps in income and opportunities, and gender empowerment
- Poverty, Inequality, and Welfare: income gaps, income shocks, role of social safety nets, MSMEs, intra-household dynamics, and social development
- Climate Change and Environment: climate change mitigation and adaptation, natural capital, sustainable development, net-zero transition, carbon pricing, energy transition, and natural disasters
- Macroeconomics and Finance: economic growth, capital market, sustainable finance, inflation, macro and financial stability, fiscal and monetary policy
- Regional Cooperation and Economic Integration: trade, economic and financial integration, global value chains, migration, capital flows, cross-border investment
- Infrastructure: energy, transport, water, urban development, and quality infrastructure
- Digital Economy and Innovation: digital transformation, closing digital divides, technology and innovation, entrepreneurship, digital currencies and assets, data science, and big data
- Domestic Resource Mobilization and Governance: public finance, debt sustainability, public management, bureaucracy, corruption, and taxation.

About the Co-Organizers

Asian Development Bank

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is committed to achieving a prosperous, inclusive, resilient, and sustainable Asia and the Pacific, while sustaining its efforts to eradicate extreme poverty. Established in 1966, it is owned by 68 members —49 from the region. Its main instruments for helping its developing member countries are policy dialogue, loans, equity investments, guarantees, grants, and technical assistance.

The Economic Research and Development Impact Department of ADB undertakes policy research to generate knowledge on key development issues of critical importance to the region; advise on strategic issues that contribute to ADB's performance; and support ADB's lending operations, policy dialogue with DMCs, and capacity building activities.

Asian Development Bank Institute

The Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI) is the Tokyo-based think tank of the Asian Development Bank. ADBI provides demand-driven policy research, capacity building and training, and outreach to help developing countries in Asia and the Pacific practically address sustainability challenges, accelerate socioeconomic change, and realize more robust, inclusive, and sustainable growth.

Seoul National University Institute of Economic Research

The Seoul National University Institute of Economic Research has been engaged in continuous theoretical research and policy development on economic issues since February 1961, when its predecessor, the Korea Economic Research Institute, was established to contribute to the stability and development of the Korean economy.

The institute has been conducting various academic research projects according to each researcher's major field of study, and it also continues to conduct joint research projects with other research institutes in Korea and abroad by holding seminars, symposiums, and research presentations. In addition, the institute publishes 'Economic Monographs' in Korean and 'Seoul Journal of Economics' in English, which aim to be places for policy discussions on the Korean economy.

Asian Development Review

The Asian Development Review (ADR) is the journal of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) and the Asian Development Bank Institute (ADBI). It publishes research on development issues relevant to the countries of the Asia and Pacific region, specifically ADB's member countries. The ADR publishes empirical papers, survey articles, historical analyses, and policy-oriented work. It bridges theoretical work and rigorous empirical studies that advance the understanding of Asia's development, and it is open to discussions of alternative perspectives on all aspects of development, including globalization, inequality, structural transformation, and poverty. The ADR aims to disseminate the best research, with contributions from scholars in all fields, with the objective of providing the knowledge necessary for designing, implementing, and sustaining effective development policies. Its intended audience comprises a worldwide readership of economists and other social scientists.

Authors of selected papers from the AEDC conference program are invited to present their papers in a Mini Symposium of the ADR at AEDC and submit their work for publication in the Asian Development Review \(ADR\).

Keynote Speakers

Professor Lisa Cameron

Lisa Cameron is the Riady Chair of Asian Economics and Business and a Professorial Research Fellow at the Melbourne Institute of Applied Economic and Social Research, University of Melbourne. She is an empirical micro-economist whose research incorporates the techniques of experimental and behavioral economics to better understand human decision-making. Much of her research focuses on policy evaluation—understanding the impacts and behavioral implications of public policy, with a focus on social and economic issues. She is particularly interested in the welfare of disadvantaged and marginalized groups and the socio-economic determinants of health. Much of her research to date has focused on developing countries, particularly Indonesia and the People’s Republic of China, and she has extensive experience collaborating with agencies such as the World Bank and the Australian Aid Program. Lisa received her PhD from Princeton University in 1996. She was elected a Fellow of the Australian Academy of Social Sciences in 2014 and appointed a Fellow of the International Economic Association in 2022.

Professor Keun Lee

Keun Lee is Distinguished Professor of Seoul National University (economics), a Fellow of the CIFAR (Canada), and the chairman of the Center for Economic Catch-up. He is also an editor of Research Policy, and associate editor of Industrial and Corporate Change. He is the winner of the 2014 Schumpeter Prize for his monograph on Schumpeterian Analysis of Economic Catch-up (2013 Cambridge Univ. Press), and also the 2019 Kapp Prize by EAEPE. He is also awarded the title of EBES Fellow of the Year 2023 by the EBES. He writes regularly for Project Syndicate. Previously, He served as the Vice-chairman of the National Economic Advisory Council for the chair and President of Korea, as the President of the International Schumpeter Society (2016–18), a member of the Committee for Development Policy of UN (2013–18), a GFC member of the World Economic Forum (2016–19). He obtained his Ph.D. in economics from the University of California, Berkeley. His total citations received is about 14,100 with H-index of 55 and I-10 index of 154 (Google Scholar).

Professor Justin Yifu Lin

Justin Yifu Lin is Dean of Institute of New Structural Economics, Dean of Institute of South-South Cooperation and Development and Professor and Honorary Dean of National School of Development at Peking University. He was the Senior Vice President and Chief Economist of the World Bank, 2008-2012. Prior to this, Mr. Lin served for 15 years as Founding Director and Professor of the China Centre for Economic Research (CCER) at Peking University. He is a member of the Standing Committee, Chinese People's Political Consultation Conference. He is the author of more than 20 books including Justin Yifu Lin on China's Economy, Beating the Odds: Jump-starting Developing Countries; Going Beyond Aid: Development Cooperation for Structural Transformation, the Quest for Prosperity: How Developing Economies Can Take Off, New Structural Economics: A Framework for Rethinking Development and Policy, Against the Consensus: Reflections on the Great Recession, and Demystifying the Chinese Economy. He is a Corresponding Fellow of the British Academy and a Fellow of the Academy of Sciences for Developing World.
